The competent support of your HESS buses – for optimal use

In cooperation with our customers, we ensure high availability of the vehicles. Ensuring spare parts availability in the preventive and corrective area and the permanent support of the customers for all upcoming concerns are a matter of course with us. New technologies and operating conditions require adaptations or updates during the period of use of the vehicles. We offer advice and support in the form of solution proposals, trainings or the implementation of special requests. HESS-LCM is a link to our competence groups such as the departments of repairs, technology and development, electrics and mechatronic. Our credo: There is nothing we cannot solve.
